

POLITICAL ACADEMY NATIONAL SOVEREIGNTY AND EUROPEAN UNION

Rome, Fondazione Modigliani
(via dell'Arco del Monte 99)
10 May-28 June

The Foundation for European Progressive Studies and the Associazione Socialismo in cooperation with the monthly magazine Mondoperaio and the Fondazione Modigliani launch a Political Academy, which will be composed of a cycle of lectures, to be held once a week from May 10 to June 28.

The initiative, which will focus on “National Sovereignty and European Union” will address young officials, party members, social workers and volunteers, as well as those who wish to fill the cultural vacuum that is affecting the contemporary political debate.

10 May, 17:00 – The crisis of liberal democracies (Luigi Capogrossi, University of Rome Sapienza)

17 May, 17:00 – National Sovereignty and European Union (Cesare Pinelli, University of Rome Sapienza)

24 May, 17:00 – Europe's cultural borders and migration (Claudia Mancini, University of Rome Sapienza and Hedwig Giusto, FEPS Senior Policy Advisor)

31 May, 17:00 – Revising regionalism in the European Union: Cataluña and Alto Adige (Paolo Pombeni, University of Bologna)

7 June, 17:00 – Revising the form of government in the context of the European Union (Stefano Ceccanti, University of Rome Sapienza)

14 June, 17:00 – Local, national and European electoral laws (Marco Plutino, University of Cassino)

21 June, 17:00 – The autonomy of the public administration (Marco Cammelli, University of Bologna)

28 June, 17:00

Welcome remarks: Hedwig Giusto, FEPS Senior Policy Advisor

Conclusion: Giuliano Amato, Former Italian Prime Minister, Member of Italy's Constitutional Court and Chair of the FEPS Global Migration Group